

Pre-Obedience/Rally 101

This class will concentrate on the foundation skills needed for Obedience and Rally competition. Skills taught include components of attention and beginning heeling, body awareness, recall, position changes (sit, down, stand), and stays.

Dogs should know their names and be able to sit and down with one cue most of the time. 101 through 303 must be taken in sequential order, no exceptions. Pre-requisite classes: Puppy or Beginner or higher.

After completing this class, consider taking Pre-Obedience/Rally 202.

Pre-Obedience/Rally 202

This class is a continuation of Pre- Obedience/Rally 101 and will concentrate on improving/increasing skills from that class. Prerequisite: Successful completion of the Pre-Obedience/Rally 101 class.

Pre-Obedience/Rally 303

This class is a continuation of Pre- Obedience/Rally 202.

We will concentrate on improving/increasing skills from that class.

Proficiency in skills taught in Pre-Obedience/Rally 202 class are required to enroll in this class.

Competition Obedience - Beginner Novice/Novice Level

This class follows Pre-Obedience/Rally 303 and is intended for handlers interested in competing in Beginner Novice Obedience. This class is also a great next step for Canine Good Citizens who want to go on to competition obedience. Since Beginner Novice can be the first step on the AKC Obedience path, we'll focus on what to expect in the ring, learn ways to train for the specific exercises, and make sure students are prepared to avoid common handler errors. Prerequisites: Successful completion of Pre-Obedience/Rally 303, currently competing in Beginner Novice, or instructor approval.

Intro to Open

For those teams presently competing in AKC Novice Obedience or have their CD. Prerequisites include 101, 202, 303, and Novice Prep or instructor approval.

Intro to Utility

For those teams that are competing in Open or who have completed their CDX title. Prerequisites also include: 101, 202, 303, and Novice Prep. If you have questions on the appropriateness of this class, please feel free to call the instructor @ 704 753 4950.
